REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

We commence to-day the publication of the most important part of Secretary Corwin's report. We hope that none of our readers will be deterred from giving it an attentive perusal. It embodies facts and arguments with which every citizen should be familiar.

The estimated receipts from customs ... for the current year ... [illegible] ... expenditures ... [illegible]

The ordinary expenditures of the government ... [illegible] ... the duty of Congress to provide ...

[illegible] ... By the long and unbroken practice of the government ... regarded as the most ... mode of raising revenue.

By the various acts of Congress ... [illegible]

[illegible]

Under the present system duties are highest when the article imported is highest and when the purchaser and consumer can least afford to pay the duty; and lowest when the price of the article wanted would allow a heavy additional duty to be levied on it. Thus, if an article costs $10, a duty of thirty per cent would compel the addition of $3; if that article falls in value to $5, then is the duty reduced one half.

Location of the Bangor and Kennebec Railroad.

We learn that at the meeting of the Directors of this road at Waterville on the 27th of Dec., for the purpose of locating this road, the route from this city to Newport and from thence to Waterville, and thence to Augusta, was established and filed. There is a prospect now, as we understand, that the road will be pushed through in the course of two years.

☞ Col. Benton's project for a Railroad to the Pacific is again before Congress. The bill is nearly the same as the former one introduced by him to accomplish the same object. The plan embraces a system of parallel roads adapted to different modes of travel and transportation; and a margin for lines of electric telegraphic wires, one common road and one iron rail road to be immediately opened and constructed. A district of territory one hundred miles wide from the Western frontier of Missouri to the Pacific Ocean is to be set apart for this purpose, with the revenue from lands and customs in California, Oregon, New Mexico and Utah, so far as not required for expenditures therein, reserved for the opening communications with those countries. A branch road is to be made to Santa Fe, and a branch to the tide-water region of the Columbia river, and another to the city of Salt Lake, for each of which fifty miles breadth of territory is to be set apart. The President is authorized to extinguish the Indian title on these lands, and it is further provided that donations of land shall be granted to each head of a family or single man over eighteen years of age, who shall settle on these lands within twelve months after the title is extinguished. Three hundred thousand dollars are appropriated to defray expenses of collecting information and extinguishing the Indian title.— The plan is a gigantic one, and whether it is practicable at present or not, the expenditure of the money asked in collecting information and making surveys of the country, will add much to the information already possessed of the new territories.

Flint Ware—A new article.

We observed a few days since at the crockery ware store of Mr. S. D. Godfrey, in this city, specimens of flint ware, manufactured in Vermont, and which, from its beauty, its fire proof qualities and the large range of uses to which it may be applied and the extensiveness of its manufacture now fairly commenced with adequate capital and under favorable auspices, will form quite an era in the manufacturing of our country.

The discoverer of the method of making this excellent flint ware, Mr. Fenton, a manufacturer of fire-brick at Birmington, Vt., after many years of experimenting at length succeeded in so combining flint, feldspar and quartz into a plastic paste, which can be moulded into any form which taste or use may suggest, covered with a delicate enamel and baked to consistency exceeding that of compact marble. In this whole manufacture there is none of the metallic bases which make up so large a portion of the English wares in ordinary use, and which have sometimes produced evils to health from their poisonous qualities.

The color of this ware is usually a rich dark brown, shaded and flecked with white and blue, though it is made pure white when desired, and for beauty, strength and purity is unequalled.

The wares made of this new material are so far rather ornamental, embracing, however, water-jars, urns, mantle ornaments, door-plates, door-knobs, sign-letters, pitchers, wash bowls, spittoons, &c.— The new process is patented, and the right to dispose of the wares in this city has been secured by Mr. Godfrey.

It happens very fortunately for our country that this discovery has been made at a time when it is difficult and becoming more so, to get a full supply of enamelled ware from Europe, on which we have ever been dependent for such wares; and at a time too when there is great need of giving a new impulse to American manufactures. Yankee ingenuity, if it can have a fair chance to get fully established and strengthened in the various branches of the arts of production can supply the wants of the country. In this particular instance, the greater excellence of the wares will be equivalent to a fair protection by the revenue system, while the protection of a patent will prevent too great a home competition. We look forward with much interest to the time when those who control this manufacture shall give to the country a general assortment of enamelled wares of their make.

The specimens at Mr. Godfrey's are door plates of various patterns, with enamelled letters for filling them up. But we learn that he is expecting soon a general supply of such articles as the company's new and enlarged works are turning out.

☞ It may be necessary for us to say that our correspondent "L." of yesterday, is not the correspondent "L." in reference to the report of Dr. Jackson's lecture which appeared in the Mercury. Our correspondent of yesterday having written several times previously over the signature of "L," felt a little unwilling to relinquish it and hence for a brief season there is a slight confusion. It sometimes happens that a correspondent has a reason for a particular signature, but generally in entirely independent articles the signature is of little consequence. We restore to our former correspondent the use of the "L." as his regular signature, particularly as our friend the occasional "L." would as well pleased with "H." or any other letter of the alphabet, he only employing "L." on scientific matters and not those of the higher law, such as this, &c.

---

☞ It is said that Capt. Ericsson of N. York, is engaged in producing a steam carriage for use upon plank roads, by which immense loads may be transported, at a good speed, with small cost. Fifteen years ago, many attempts were made in England to produce a steam carriage, suitable to use upon common roads, but no experiment resulted profitably. Either the expense of the power, or the softness of the roads prevented the practical introduction of the machines, though many successful steam journeys were performed. There seems to be no good reason why steam power cannot be successfully used on plank roads, and have no doubt it will soon be.

☞ The Carrier Boys of the Daily Whig and Courier have labored hard to get up a grand poem of the leading events of the past year, which they will be happy, entirely on their own account, to lay before the readers of our columns as a New Year's compliment, and which they trust will be satisfactory to all, and found in the end to be no unfortunate investment. The friends of our paper are always generous to the boys who so faithfully serve them with the paper, and they will not withhold a small token of their regards on this occasion.

☞ No mail from beyond Portland this morning.

The Gift Season.

We would remind our readers that the New Year celebrates a birth-day to-morrow, and that it is a fitting season, so decided by a long and increasing line of precedents, for the bestowment of tokens of remembrance. We are of the number of those who believe the influence of this kindly interchange of affection is good—that both those who give and those who receive are made better—that feelings of a friendly nature are excited and strengthened, and the good results of which will outlive those whose actions brought them into existence. We advise all those who have friends whom they love—whose respect and esteem they would strengthen and perpetuate, to countenance and encourage the habit of celebrating the festivities of the season by presenting to those friends some fitting token of their affection. That token need not be expensive. Its intrinsic value may be slight, but if it is received with a right spirit it will be regarded not for its own worth, but as a token of esteem, and as such will be prized beyond estimation. And then let it be remembered that these representatives of love have in them a significance most likely to suggest and encourage a growth of love in the human heart and to bind all in closer ties. The noon of the century is upon us, and whatever little service we can any of us perform to increase kindly affection among mankind, will perform an essential use in the world.

We find that those who made preparations for furnishing rich presents for Christmas, have still a supply of new and beautiful articles for New Year. There is no difficulty in finding something suitable for a present for a person of any age or standing in any relation. We prefer not mentioning particular persons to-day, but as a general and safe directory, would refer our readers to the advertising columns of the Whig and Courier for the names of those whose pleasure it will be to furnish such things as may be reasonably required. Our opinion is that decidedly the best places to find rich and reasonable articles for presents, are those mentioned in our advertising columns. We should not think of going elsewhere.

Railroad up the Penobscot River.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

I wish to inquire of the citizens of Bangor, through our journal, if there is not a falling off in their business, as far as Aroostook county is concerned. I am led to make the inquiry, on seeing a large number of teams constantly employed in transporting merchandise from the St. John river to different sections of this county. When I first came into this county (in 1813) all the supplies required to carry on the extensive lumbering operations were hauled from Bangor, giving constant employment to a large number of our citizens and their teams. Mark the difference. Now nearly all of our trade is with the citizens of Boston, and all the merchandise is brought up the St. John River, throwing all our carrying trade into the hands of citizens of the Province. Would it not be better for Bangor, if her capitalists would invest their money in a Railroad that shall extend to the Aroostook River? thus redeeming what they have lost by the preference that has been given to carrying via the St. John, and secure the transportation of all the sawed and split lumber that is carried from here to Boston.

I am well aware that the first thing to be done is to convince capitalists that it will pay as well or better than any other investment they can make. This, I think, can readily be done, if they will look into the matter carefully. Here is a territory of several thousand square miles, covered with valuable timber, and affording a vast water power, which could be employed to manufacture it into boards, clapboards and shingles and to transport them to some suitable place for the road to come to the river. Again, the land here is second to none in New England for agricultural purposes, and I think the time is not far distant when the farmers here will compete with those in Western New York in raising wheat.

I trust this subject will engage the attention of those fully competent to do it justice, and who have command of time and feel an interest in its success. C. H. E.

Maple Grove, Dec. 20, 1850.

☞ We learn that the custom, so prevalent in some part of the world, and so appropriate and beneficial, and which is so especially honored in the city of New York, that of making calls upon friends for the purpose of cementing old friendships and forming new ones, will be observed to-morrow by a still larger circle than common. This custom has been repeatedly brought to the notice of our citizens, and for ten years past there has been a circle of choice spirits who have observed it and found much pleasure therein. If the circle shall be enlarged this year it is all the better, and of this we have a promise in the Mercury.

---

Fire Proof Ropes.—Professor Johnson, of St. Louis, has discovered a method, it is said, by which ropes can be rendered entirely indestructible by fire. The process is stated to be very simple, and so cheap that the commonest fabric can be prepared with it, and its use be made universal. Wood for the lining of safes prepared by this process, possesses a perfect resistance to a fire capable of melting the cast iron, and burning out the wrought metal enclosing it.

---

☞ We have received from Messrs. E. F. Duren & Co. the first part of a useful publication of Instruction in Drawing, containing the Elementary Studies of Animals. This work is by E. N. Otis, and is published by D. Appleton & Co. New York. Our little folks will have an opportunity now to work up a little of their skill in following these exercises.

---

The Young Artist; or The Dream of Italy. By T. S. Arthur. New York: M. W. Dodd, 1850.

This is an admirable story by one of the most popular authors of touching, moral and suggestive tales in our country. His name is a passport to the family circle, and one may select from him with an assurance that good morals and right-heartedness will be encouraged. This is a great virtue in any writer, and the virtue which, happily for all, is now most honored and respected by our community.

The publisher of this work, Mr. Dodd, has brought it out in a handsome volume of 108 pages, and in a style which makes it a pretty gift book for youth. It may be found at E. F. Duren & Co's.

☞ We have received from Messrs. Hotchkiss & Co., enterprising and attentive booksellers in Boston, the twelfth number of the Illustrated Domestic Bible by Rev. Ingram Cobbin. It is a valuable edition.

---

☞ We understand that one of the Engineers of the fire department of the city of Augusta has visited our city for the purpose of getting posted up on the subject of fire engines, and that it is not improbable that a contract may be made with the machinists of our city for two first rate engines. We trust such a contract may be entered into, and that so high a compliment may be accorded to our mechanics.

☞ The Portland News states that there was a report in that city that the ship Gen. Dunlap, which sailed from there a few days previously, has been wrecked. The Gen. Dunlap carried out a very large number of Irish laborers engaged to work on one of the Alabama railroads.

☞ Mr. William Lewis has received a large lot of J. P. Boon's extra fine metallic pens that move very freely, and are equal to anything for the production of good penmanship. The manuscript of this paragraph, written with one of these pens, will probably astonish our compositor with its fine marks and beautiful appearance! Hem!

☞ We would direct the attention of our readers to the new Ordinance of the City Council, touching the duty of the citizens of Bangor in the removal of snow from the sidewalks in front of stores and shops. See advertising columns.

☞ The first lecture of Dr. Jackson's course of six lectures on Geology, before the Mechanics' Association, will be delivered at the City Hall on this evening. See advertisement.

☞ We learn that the steamer Creole is to make a landing at Frankfort on her regular trips between Boston, Portland and St. John the present winter.

The new town of Chelsea, in Kennebec county, has no post office, lawyer, doctor, tavern or grog-shop.

Jenny Lind at Mount Vernon.

Washington, Dec. 27.

Jenny Lind's visit to Mount Vernon was a most agreeable feature in her American experience. (She was not there as long a time as she would have liked, as a visit from Mr. Clay, Mr. Miller and others, in the morning just as she was about to leave, detained her for nearly an hour.)

Her affable, soft, and easy manners, there, charmed her host and hostess, who conducted her through the house, even into the room in which Gen. Washington died, now the chamber of Mrs. Washington. Mr. Washington, to express the sentiments which he entertained for her, presented a valuable relic indeed—a book owned by Gen. Washington, with his name traced with his own hand, on a leaf. She expressed herself deeply gratified by this gift, and with her visit to Mount Vernon.

Mr. Washington invited her to Mount Vernon, came for her, and returned with her, and gave her a very handsome collation. As she passed Alexandria, a Swedish vessel there raised their National flag, and cheered her,— an incident touching to her sensitive nature.

Jenny, after her return from Mount Vernon, which was at dark, visited the President unexpectedly to the family, (her second social informal visit.)—[Cor. N. Y. Express.

A Controversy with Conscience.—The following anecdote reported in the Journal of Commerce, was related by Dr. Todd, the orator at the celebration of the New England Society at Brooklyn:

An assembly convened for general consultation at Danvers, Mass., the members of which, after very long services, began to feel quite keen for the dinner. As they were gathering around the table, which was graced by a very fat buck, some one whispered that the animal had been killed by an Indian hunter on Sunday. Of course all were shocked, and the general impression was, that it must be left untouched, although there was no means of procuring a substitute. At last the Governor, to whom all looked in this emergency, said that if Rev. Mr. Peabody would say grace, he would agree to have the Indian publicly whipped, and he thought they might all fall to with a good appetite and clear conscience.

Collision on the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad.—In addition to the particulars of the collision on this road on Monday, as published in the Times of Tuesday, we learn that although Mr. Wm. Hartshorn's arm was badly mangled the attending surgeons are of opinion that he will not be obliged to submit to amputation.— He is represented as being a very efficient man in his office as road master, and the loss of a limb would be to him, as well as to the Corporation, a serious one indeed. Mr. Geo. Palfrey, an engineer, had his back very badly injured, and it is feared that his spine is seriously affected. Mr. Jones, fireman, was badly injured internally and his recovery is considered doubtful.—[Boston Times.

---

Lead Mine in New Hampshire.—The Rev. Mr. French, of Nelson, N. H., has recently excavated a bluff near his house, from which his two younger sons and a hired man dig daily one and a half tons of pure black lead; which, delivered at the depot in Keene, eleven miles distant, is worth $10 per ton. There are several quarries of the article in that vicinity, but this is said to be the purest and most abundant. He contemplates employing several hands in the spring at the mine, where they may at a comparatively small expense take out thousands of tons.—[Lowell Courier.

---

Died, of bilious fever, at Levant, Me., Dec. 13, 1850, Albert M. Case, aged 26 years.

Thus has fallen, in the freshness of early manhood, one who for sterling qualities had endeared himself to many friends, who now deeply feel and deplore his loss. He was the son of Dea. Isaac Case, a practicing physician at Levant. In his early youth he was accustomed to the labors of the farm; but being of active turn of mind, and thirsting for knowledge, the plan was formed for him and an older brother, Isaac W. Case, who graduated at Bowdoin College some few years since, to pursue their studies together. But ere their preparatory course was finished, Albert's health failed, so that his fondly cherished plan of going through College was given up. Nevertheless, he pursued his Academical studies as health would permit, until he gained the reputation of an apt and thorough scholar.

For several years he engaged as a teacher in the common town schools, and for the fall term of 1849, was assistant teacher at East Corinth Academy.—Here he was deservedly popular, and sustained a rising reputation. In the subject of common school education he took deep interest; and for several terms in which he served on the Board of Superintending School Committees in his native town, by his thoroughness and efficiency he made his influence felt.

He had chosen the medical profession,—had pursued his studies with his father to nearly the requisite term—had attended medical lectures at Brunswick, two terms, and was about to take the third course the present winter and spring, after which he was intending to enter into practice. But death has come and cut off all these fond expectations. And to his friends this dispensation is peculiarly afflictive. Death finds not such a subject every day,—not one so full of promise,—in whom were so happily blended the virtues which made him beloved in private.—Unostentatious and kind in his bearing, yet firm,—mild and conciliatory, yet decided,—prudent in his course and irreproachable in morals,—he scarcely knew a foe. Although his loss is irreparable to the community, yet it falls with almost crushing weight on the family, in whose circle his place is now made vacant, and in which he most admirably fulfilled the duties of a son and a brother.

Having been religiously educated, he ever manifested a regard for the institutions of the Gospel; and his friends are consoled with the hope that in his last hours he cast himself on Him who alone is able to save.

His funeral was attended on the 18th inst. at the Union Meeting House at Levant, when an eloquent and impressive sermon, founded on Matt. 25 : 34, was preached by Rev. J. Maltby of Bangor. These exercises were very touchingly introduced by a lament from the choir, of which the deceased was a prominent member. The corpse was followed to the grave by the mourning relatives, the Choir, the Division of the Sons of Temperance, and numerous friends and acquaintances.

WRITING ACADEMY open day and evening, at No. 74 Main Street.

Terms—$1,50 for Gentlemen,—Ladies $1,00.

Cards marked to order. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed. d6m—sep 10

Foster's Mountain Compound, for the Hair, far surpasses any other Compound for the Ladies' Toilet. It possesses qualities never before Combined. One bottle of it is worth more than its weight in California Gold. Its high reputation, both from distinguished individuals and the press universally, has established its reputation as the only sure remedy for all diseases of the Scalp,—Baldness and falling Hair, removing Dandruff, &c. Its unbounded success has brought forth numerous spurious nostrums, made almost entirely of Alcohol, which are but aggravating to the first cause of baldness, and very injurious. Beware of these quackeries!

The Mountain Compound, is sought after by the elite and fashionable in all the principal cities of the Union, and is regarded the most indispensable article for giving great beauty, moisture, and richness to the texture of the hair, ever invented.

Ladies and Gentlemen, try it! We say, try it!!

Sold by LADD & INGRAHAM, and A. P. GUILD, and Druggists every where.

Bangor, 23d October, 1850.

MADAME DE STAEL. This lady observes that love occupies the whole life of woman. That portion of time not occupied in loving is devoted to loveliness; and such assistance as the Hyperion Fluid, for beautifying the hair, and Lilydona for the complexion, she did not forget. Every lady whose taste is unexceptionable, patronizes these elegant toilet articles, invented and sold by Wm. Bogle, 277 Washington St., Boston.

ANNUAL MEETING.

P. A. SOCIETY.

The members of the Penobscot Agricultural Society, and all others interested are notified that the annual meeting of the society for the choice of officers and for the transaction of all business required by the Constitution, and which may be thought needful to promote the objects and interests of the Society, will be held at LEVANT VILLAGE, on MONDAY, the 6th day of January, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Per Order,

☞ More than one hundred persons of the first respectability, and among them one of the best medical practitioners in this country, have certified to facts from their own experience and knowledge, which prove beyond a doubt, that for cases of General Debility and Indigestion, giving rise to Sick Headache, Pains in various parts of the body, and other Nervous Disturbances, which being often misunderstood lead to the apprehension of consumption and other dreadful diseases—there is no remedy so generally indicated as HOLDEN'S ALTERATIVE AND TONIC MIXTURE.

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

RUMORED MOVEMENT FOR THE INDEPENDENCE OF LOWER CALIFORNIA.

New York, Dec. 30.

A morning paper pretends to have private advices from California by the Ohio, announcing that it is the intention of some of the leading men of the State to organize an expedition of Americans and proceed to that portion of Mexico known as Lower California, with the view of assisting the people in declaring their independence of the Central Government, and then seeking incorporation of this Republic in the way the American adventurers in Texas acted.

New York Markets.

Dec. 30th, P. M.

Flour—market quiet, no change. Sales 1200 bbls, Canadian fine, 900 bbls at $4 87, Southern, 200 bbls at $5 12.

CONGRESS.

Washington, Dec. 30.

In the Senate, Mr. Benton introduced a bill to accelerate the sale of public lands to pay the public debts; to extinguish the title to lands without the States; to grant donation to actual settlers, and to cede refuse lands to respective States.

In the House—Mr. White introduced a bill granting right of way through lands to Buffalo and Northern Railroad Companies.—Read twice.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Queen's Speech on the Catholic Question—Affairs in Germany—A Plot in France—Change of Ministry in Spain—Fresh Disturbances at Aleppo.

The Queen's answer to the Address presented to her on the Catholic question gives general satisfaction. The papers teem with accounts of meetings, addresses, petitions and remonstrances against new Roman Catholic organizations.

Affairs in Germany continue in an unsettled state. Gen. Willisen has suddenly resigned command of the Holstein army. Gen. Von der Horst is his successor.

A new socialist plot has been discovered at Toulon, France. A revolution has broken out at Palermo.

Change of Ministry taken place at Madrid.

Fresh disturbances at Aleppo.—Insurgents made another attack on the city, and have been once more defeated.

SECOND DESPATCH.

Ledger Building, Philadelphia, destroyed by fire—loss about $150,000. The vessel ashore in Providence harbor proves to be the ship Oseppe from New Orleans for Boston. Crew saved—vessel total loss. Pilot Boat Friend, for Provincetown, brought up nine passengers from the Baltic, and reports that Capt. Comstock had purchased coal of brig Palm.

An Ordinance relating to Sidewalks.

Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of the City of Bangor in City Council assembled, that the tenant or occupant of any store or shop bordering upon any sidewalk, shall, after the ceasing to fall of any snow, if in the day time, within six hours, and if in the night time before one of the clock in the afternoon succeeding, cause the same to be removed from such sidewalk.

Sec. 2. Be it further ordained, that such tenant or occupant, whenever any ice shall have been formed upon the sidewalk, bordering upon such store or shop, shall cause such ice to be removed, or to be covered or strewed with sand, ashes, or other substance, in such manner as to allow the safe and easy passage of foot passengers.

Sec. 3. Be it further ordained, that every such tenant or occupant, neglecting to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, shall forfeit and pay the sum of one dollar for each and every day that he shall so neglect, to be recovered on complaint by the City Marshal, or his deputy, as for a criminal offence.

ELEGANT AND INVALUABLE

Articles for the Toilet.

Bogle's Hyperion Fluid,

For Restoring, Preserving, and Embellishing the HAIR.

The following Certificate, from Dr. Winslow Lewis, one of the most eminent Physicians of Boston, will show the estimation in which it is held by the scientific and learned, being one only of many similar ones.

Boston, Feb. 15, 1847.

Mr. Wm. Bogle,—Sir: The preparation invented by you for the hair, has been extensively used in my family, and they give it the decided preference over all other compositions of the kind. It invigorates and beautifies the hair, and cleans the skin of all impurities, without producing any ultimate deleterious effects, without one so frequently the result of other well-known patented compounds.

WINSLOW LEWIS.

It is an indispensable article for the Ladies, as it keeps the hair in place and curl, and the skin or parting of the hair, free from dandruff and scurf. For children, it lays the foundation of a good head of hair.

BOGLE'S AMOLE,
A COMPOUND FOR SHAVING.

This delightful article is totally different and far superior to anything yet invented for shaving. This base of it is derived from the Amole, or "soap plant" of California, an article used by the natives of that country for washing; and thus, the use of strong alkali, so hurtful to the skin, is avoided. Its vegetable and detergent properties have the purest and most healthful effects on the skin—it soothes and allays irritation, and gives a fine, thick, creamy lather, which does not dry on the face. It is a delicious luxury to be shaved with this incomparable soap. It is done up in elegant style, calculated either for the trough and ready traveling, or the toilet of the most fastidious connoisseur.

Bogle's Hebeaiona,

FOR REFRESHING AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

Eradicating Tans, Pimples, and other eruptions of the skin, and rendering it fair, delicate and blooming. It is equally efficacious in protecting the skin from the hot rays of summer, and freezing blasts of winter, and is the most fragrant and delicious article to be found at the toilet of fashion.

All the above articles have stood the test of the strictest investigation, and are warranted superior to anything yet invented; but, if not found, its proves so on trial, the money, in all cases, will be refunded by our Agents. WILLIAM BOGLE, Proprietor, 277 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Agents for Bangor, LADD & INGRAHAM; and SARGENT & EMERSON, Druggists.
